IN BRIEF

Large stone house to renovate. The property is currently divided into two dwellings, but could also be merged together to make a large family home. The south facing courtyard is very inviting and has a beautiful green gate. There's a summer kitchen and some 'petits toits'. At the back of the property lies a large hangar, a back garden, a garage and a workshop. To the side of the property, across a small road, lies a large constructible field with another hangar. The property has got great potential, but does need a complete renovation (electrics, windows, septic tank, roof, decoration, etc.).
