IN BRIEF

A gently undulating region alternating a coloured mosaic of grasslands, woods and cultivated landscapes where an outstanding architectural heritage is made up of a number of medieval fortified towns, hilltop villages, castles, abbeys and mills. Close to two towns, one of which was once an important fortified city and today home to artists and craftsmen, where it feels good to stroll through cobbled streets and their beautiful facades, and stop off to eat something at the restaurants serving local produce or just simply enjoy the view.
