DESCRIPTION

The main house has a large entrance hall which has at present a living room on the right of the passageway. On the left is a large kitchen/diner leading on to a bedroom with WC and a shower. Following on is another bedroom. The floors are lovely old wooden planks and there is a fireplace. This first property is habitable, has central heating with a new boiler, new shutters, electricity and water. The roof is recent and there is no humidity. Next door which is semi detached is a cottage with a kitchen and large living room with an enormous fireplace, WC and Shower room. Upstairs are three spacious bedrooms. This side of the property needs total renovation. Behind the cottage is a large barn which leads into two more outbuildings which could be converted into more dwellings, garages, storage or studio workshops. Adjacent is another very basic property to renovate with stabling for animals included. Another two small outbuildings and a garage belonging to the main house, which was once a little cottage. It's a wonderful project, not for the faint hearted but could be the creation of something very special.
