NOTES

DESCRIPTION

Accessed through a large gate; the house, barn and the old tobacco drying barn are situated around a small courtyard garden with the main land being to the right rear aspect. There is more than enough space on the flat land behind the house for a pool or a vegetable patch!

The house is fully refurbished, retains charm and character, is south facing and benefits from gas central heating throughout. There are woodburners installed in the living room and in the kitchen and it is mostly double glazed (apart from a couple of windows).

There is a lovely bread oven building adjoining the side aspect of the house and the bread oven is intact.

The furniture is included within the advertised price, perfect for those starting out or purchasing a holiday home..
