IN BRIEF

Exceptional location for this large family home with amazing views over its own 5 acres and the Breton countryside beyond. Built in 1978 to a high specification, the house has many outstanding features, granite fireplace and niches and oak fittings. A wonderful home for entertaining throughout the year, with a convivial L shaped lounge, dining room, opening onto an equipped, fitted kitchen this living space is ideal all year round. The double height ceiling overlooked by a 'minstrels' gallery' landing gives a feeling of grandeur, but it's cosy to gather round the fireplace on cooler days and the many doors and windows are ideal for summer, both to enjoy the outside/inside feeling and make the most of those spectacular views. Location, location, location - yes, it ticks this box amazingly well. In its own generous and private plot with extensive views over open countryside, very private and peaceful yet just 3km...

NOTES

DESCRIPTION

Who would it suit? It's been a well-loved second home for a family who have enjoyed the privileged location, surrounded by nature, the peace and tranquillity and the space to welcome family and friends. A family would be at home here, including extended family as the ground floor bedrooms offer a private suite. Or someone who wishes to run a business from home or have a chambres d'hôte. Not forgetting our equestrian friends – it is not currently used for horses, but much of the land would be suitable and stables could be built (subject to planning).

Ground floor

Entrance hall 3,7 m x 4,9 m with built in Breton cupboard

L shaped living space divided into sitting room 3,9 m x 4,7 m with minstrel's gallery above and stone fireplace with wood burning stove and dining space 7,9 m x 4,0 m with beamed ceiling Both of the above rooms benefit from doors opening out onto the terrace.

(There are charming suntraps for every meal of the day)
