IN BRIEF

Nestled in the Barousse valley, this spacious property offers you the perfect setting to enjoy this beautiful region of France.

The house has retained many original features and has a lot of potential. The barn could be converted into accommodation and it would be easy create a separate apartment in the house to provide rental income.

The village has a mini supermarket, bakers, bar/restaurant and post office, fishing in the river, a small lake and is just 35 minutes to the telecabin in Luchon to the ski resort of Superbagnères and the same distance to the Val d'Aran in Spain with a large choice of tapas bars, restaurants and shops.

ENERGY - DPE

The house is located at the start of the Portes de Bales, a tough and popular route of the Tour de France.

Below is a description of the current layout of the house, describing each room in detail:

HOUSE – GROUND FLOOR

The property was once a home and épicerie. You enter the ground floor via the original double doors with ornate grill into the salon with:

- Open fireplace
- Wooden ceiling
- 2 radiators
- Original wooden staircase with wood and iron balustrade

Two doors (either side of the open fireplace) lead into the large room which was once the old 'epicerie' with:

- External door providing an additional entrance to the property
- Large window with shutter
- 2 radiators
- Door into the couloir with lavabo and a separate WC with tiled floor and radiator

Steps and a door at the rear of the salon lead into the kitchen with:

- Separate entrance door to the lane at the side of the house
- Separate entrance door to the courtyard
- Window with iron grill
