NOTES

DESCRIPTION

Accessed via a private, tree-lined gravel driveway that opens to a spacious courtyard with ample parking, this old detached stone property is located on the edge of a hamlet in the commune of Rouzede in the eastern Charente.

The property comprises a 3-bedroom main house (190m²), an adjoining 2-bedroom maison d'amis, an adjoining barn (190m² floor space), a workshop/garage (65m² floor space), and two additional outbuildings. All buildings are located on an attached plot of land of almost 1.3 hectares that includes a small fishing lake.

The main house, south-facing, is of old stone construction. It has been tastefully renovated to create a lovely rural living space replete with bare stone walls, exposed oak ceiling beams, and wood floors.

Entering the house takes you directly into the fully equipped kitchen and dining room (40m²) with an open-plan layout, high ceiling, plenty of natural light, abundant storage, and a large fireplace with a wood burner. Adjacent to the kitchen/diner is a spacious double aspect salon (35m²). A corridor leading from the kitchen/ diner takes you to the ground floor shower room (3.5m²) with a washbasin and lavatory, laundry/small store room (6m²), office (7.5m²), and sun room (13m²) with direct terrace access. A wooden staircase leads to the first floor and three comfortable bedrooms (21m², 22m² & 27.5m²), the master with its own walk-in wardrobe. There is also a second bathroom (5m²) with a bath, a washbasin, and a lavatory.
