DESCRIPTION

This well-positioned village property in Buxières-les-Mines offers approximately 108m² of habitable living space and presents an excellent opportunity for those seeking a comfortable home in a peaceful yet convenient location.

The house is semi-detached and set within a small plot of 172m², making it easy to maintain while still offering a private courtyard.

On the ground floor (RDC), you are welcomed by an entrance leading to a fitted kitchen of approximately 10m². The spacious and light-filled lounge/dining room (25m²) provides a central living area. This level also includes two generously sized bedrooms (12m² and 14m²) and a bathroom (4m²), making it suitable for single-level living if required.

The lower ground floor (sous-sol) significantly enhances the property's functionality. It features a large 28m² room with patio doors opening to the front of the house, ideal as a second living space, guest area, or hobby room. There is also a 9m² summer kitchen, a 6m² office (bureau), a shower room with WC, along with caves, storage cupboards, and a boiler room, offering excellent storage and flexibility.

The property benefits from town gas central heating, electric shutters, and is connected to mains drainage, ensuring modern comfort and practicality.

Situated in the village, the property enjoys a quiet setting while remaining within easy reach of the nearby towns of Cosne-d'Allier, Montluçon, and Moulins, which provide a wide range of shops, services, schools, and transport links.

This property combines space, practicality, and location, offering great potential in a charming French village setting.
