IN BRIEF

Tucked away from the road in a quiet hamlet, this enchanting character property offers a rare sense of peace and timeless charm. Its long, attached garden, with mature fruit trees and the views, creates a wonderfully bucolic backdrop — the perfect setting for a serene fulltime home or an inviting countryside escape.

Stepping inside feels like opening a door to the past. The house has stood untouched for around 20 years & now awaits a sympathetic renovation to bring it back to life. The essentials are reassuringly sound: the roof does not leak, and the property is already connected to mains drainage, so there is no septic tank to manage.

DESCRIPTION

Step through the partially glazed front door into this gorgeous kitchen (approx: 22m<sup>2</sup>) with a lovely stone fireplace, original sink set into the wall and many original features. As there is currently no heating in the house, a wood-burner in this fireplace would keep you cosy in winter and add ambiance. To the right is the main bedroom (approx: 22m<sup>2</sup>) with a double glazed window overlooking this stunning view and a charming integrated cupboard in the wall. To the back of the kitchen you come into a small back room (approx: 5m<sup>2</sup>) housing the hot water heater and to the left a bathroom (approx: 6m<sup>2</sup>) with a shower, basin and loo. There is a partially glazed door to the back of the house which apparently needs repairing. The second bedroom (approx: 16m<sup>2</sup>) is to the other side of the back room, again with a double glazed window and that incredible view.

There are two cellar rooms accessible from the outside which it would be possible to renovate to provide more living space as well as an attic above which is also accessible via an outside door and a ladder.
