DESCRIPTION

Previously operating as office premises (approximately 140m²) with adjoining residential accommodation (approximately 200m²), the property could easily be transformed into a spacious and characterful family home, business premises, or a divided project.

The property retains many attractive original features, including a beautiful wooden staircase and charming period details.

On the ground floor, the residential section currently offers a cloakroom (12.7m²), a large office (28.1m²) with an adjoining meeting room (13.1m²), and a kitchen (23.6m²) with potential to enlarge or redesign, along with a nearby WC.

On the first floor there are four rooms suitable for bedrooms (14.2m²) (12.3m²) (9.7m²) (9.5m²) or other uses, a living room (27.9m²), and a separate WC located in the hallway.

Stairs lead to the second floor attic space, where you will find two rooms offering excellent potential for conversion into additional living accommodation or ideal use for storage. There is also a room with a shower and WC, which requires renovation. Further storage space is provided by built-in wooden shelving.

The former office workspace features a large area (60.7m²) with exposed stone walls, fitted storage wardrobes, and an additional meeting room (15m²).

The basement level includes a large space (41.m²) ideal for a gym, meeting area, workshop, leisure room, or further accommodation, together with separate WC facilities for both men and women (5.2m²).

Additional benefits include a reversible heating/air conditioning system and a courtyard area. The property is situated alongside a road, with rear
