IN BRIEF

In the heart of the magnificent medieval village of St Sernin-sur-Rance, in the department of Aveyron and very close to the Tam, lies this unique property complex.

A breathtaking view, with the upper part of the village perched on its rocky outcrop, featuring typical medieval houses, and below, the splendid River Rance, teeming with fish! The property comprises an old mill dating from 1848 overlooking the river, with a 224 m² residential section comprising two self-contained flats, its irrigation canal and pond, its central hall and annexes including a bread oven, cellars, garages, a cellar bar and a terrace overlooking the river, private access to the river and gardens, and another adjoining residential house of 106 m² comprising two independent dwellings. Land area of 4,777 m².

It will be able to accommodate a wide range of projects that...

DESCRIPTION

Let's begin the tour – it really is a unique place! After spending some time strolling around, drawn in by this picturesque spot and the magical call of the river in the background, we enter the main house, which has been recently renovated. First, we discover a lovely living area with a modern, functional kitchen, a dining area and a cosy, efficient fireplace; the light, natural colours bring a lovely brightness to this room, and there is also a shower room with a toilet. Adjacent to this is a spacious living room featuring beautiful parquet flooring and impressive exposed beams, with the added bonus of a large bay window offering breathtaking views of the river !

Back in the kitchen, a beautiful staircase leads us upstairs to the sleeping area, which comprises tBeautiful bedrooms, one of which has an en-suite bathroom and a separate toilet.

A surprise and a huge bonus: there are two self-contained flats located downstairs on the garden side and in the heart of the mill – one on the mezzanine level with a kitchen, dining room, bedroom, shower room and toilet, and another on the ground floor with the same layout!

These properties are ready to use and will allow you to accommodate family, friends or clients depending on your plans; it really is a superb opportunity.

Outside, a true waterside paradise with a garden, mill pond, private access to the river – which is priceless – and... YES, you're not dreaming: just above...
