NOTES

DESCRIPTION

The house sits in approximately 13,000 m² of land, creating a wonderfully private setting surrounded by mature trees, established planting, and open green spaces. A magnificent avenue of ancient trees invites you to take a stroll through the grounds towards the banks of the Aveyron River offering a true sense of escape. The gardens are full of charm, with shaded corners, lawns, mature shrubs, roses, and terraces from which to enjoy the changing seasons.

Inside, the property has been renovated to a high standard, offering a comfortable and practical home for modern living. The bright open-plan living space combines a stylish contemporary kitchen with dining and sitting areas, creating a sociable and welcoming heart to the home. Large openings bring in natural light and connect the interior with the surrounding garden, while the modern wood-burning stove adds warmth and atmosphere.

The property also retains authentic character, with exposed stone walls, traditional materials, and charming exterior details including stone facades, red shutters, climbing roses, and a terracotta-tiled roof. This blend of old and new gives the home a warm, elegant feel without compromising on everyday comfort.
