NOTES

DESCRIPTION

This charming and property is to die for and so convenient to all that the medieval town of Domfront has to offer, including boutiques, restaurants, the historic castle invaded by William the Conqueror, delightful cobbled streets and its famous Eglise St Julien at the top of the town. You can take a break and refreshing drink at the charming medieval Normandy Bar.

Regular weekly Friday market and annual medieval festivals are super to participate in the dancing if you like or just relax in the Brasserie Central the heart of Activity serving endless coffee and super snacks.

The property overlooks a beautifully manicured lawn from the south facing balcony. At the rear is a charming passage way running directly to the town. The spacious and light lounge extends into a double bedroom and or super dining area that could comfortably seat 10.

A large bathroom with separate toilet and two more comfortable bedrooms complimented by a very modern and spacious light and bright kitchen recently modernised for ease of use.

Altogether a super second home or a permanent home for a couple with family.
